

John Fick, MLS, CFE, CFCI, CECFE is the SVP, Fraud Director for HTLF (AKA Heartland Financial USA). John has been in the financial crimes industry for over 15 years as a Financial Crimes Investigator and enterprise Fraud Manager within the banking industry. Throughout his career, he has worked with small regional financial institutions to large national financial institutions throughout the United States. John has been a member of IAFCI (North Texas Chapter and now NW Chapter) since 2012. John is also the Northwest Chapter President for the International Association of Financial Crimes Investigators (IAFCI). John is also the Chairman of the Advisory at the Puget Sound Skill Center for high school students looking for a career within the criminal justice industry. John is also a board member on the Washington State legislated task force called the Puget Sound Financial Fraud and Identity Theft Task Force. John has had the honor of achieving three certifications, which are the Certified Financial Crimes Investigator (CFCI), the Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE), and the Certified Economic Crime Forensic Examiner (CECFE) designations within his career. In addition, John holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Organizational Security and Management with honors and a master's in legal studies through Northeastern University School of Law.